VICTIMS OF CAS.

Man and Woman Unconscious When an Employee Breaks in the Door of the Room.

PROBABLY WILL RECOVER

Physicians Work Several Hours Over the Patients and Restore Conciousness - No Statement Made.

A well-dressed man of prosperous appearance and a woman of apparent refinement were found unconscious in a gas-filled room in the Kings County Hotel, Surf avenue, Coney Island, early to-day.

They had registered at the hotel as man and wife. They had no baggage. On the man's right arm was tattooed the initial "K." and an anchor. He was apparently thirty-five years old. five feet seven inches in height, of 160 pounds weight and had dark hair and a sandy mustache. He wore a black cutaway suit and a black derby hat. The woman is about twenty-five years old, five feet five inches in height and weighs about 120 pounds. Her front teeth are slightly prominent. If the police found letters or anything which would identify the victims they failed to report it. An employee smelled gas in the hall early this morning and broke in the door of the room. Both occupants were unconscious and evidently nearly as-They were sent to the Reception Hospital, where, after three hours' work, the woman was revived, but the doctors said it would be best for her not to attempt to make a statement for a few hours, or until she gained more strength. The physicians had more difficulty with the man, but said he would recover.

When the woman had recovered surficiently she said she was Delia McGrath, a seamstress, living with a Mrs. McFadden at No. 480 Degraw street. Brooklyn.

Brooklyn. 40 Coney Island yesterday afternoon." she said, "and while on Surf avenue I spoke to this man. I never saw him before, but he smiled and I liked his looks. He was very good to me and we had a lot of drinks together in the Kings County Hotel. It was late and so I thought I better stay there all night. I don't know what his name is. He told me to call him Edd."

MRS. SING TRIES TO DIE.

Wife of a Jersey City Chinama Drinks Carbolic Acid.

Nellie Soy Sing, twenty-eight years old, wife of a Chinaman, who is said to be a well-to-do merchant in Jersey City attempted to commit suicide early this morning at her home, on the third floor of No. 16 Pell street, by drinking carbolle acid

The woman was well known in Chinatown as "Shorty." She had lived in that district for the last twelve years. Yesterday she and her husband had dispute, and he left her rooms in a huff. Last night she went to a drug store and bought 20 cents' worth of carbolic acid. She was heard groaning early this morning by some Chinamen in the house.

They notified several white women, who found Mrs. Soy Sing writhing in pain. An ambulance took her a prisoner to Hudson Street Hospital. She will re-

Stampede in Tenement Fall Styles When Vicious Canine Cornered Man in Hallway.

POLICEMEN TO RESCUE

Locked Themselves in Rooms casion at

A victous buildog caused a stampede early to-day in the big double tenement

Those injured by the dog were: Thomas Sullivan, forty-two years, No 848 First avenue; right hand lacerated. Francis Smith, No. 852 First avenue oitten on left hand. Patrick Wallace, No. 852 First avenue; oitten on the right wrist and calf of right leg. Thomas McGuire, No. 230 East Seven-tieth street; bitten on left thigh and Policeman Henry Hargrove; bitten on

Miss Julia Miller and her escort, Thomas McGuire, of No. 320 East Seventieth street, had just reached the steps of the house at No. 842 First avenue, where the young woman lives, when the dog came bounding down the street and attacked them.

The barking of the dog and the shouts of McGuire aroused the house and the tenants thronged the halls. McGuire shouted to the tenants to get back into their rooms and there was a general ush and locking of doors.

Thomas Sullivan, Frank Smith, Patick Wallace and three policemen who heard the uproar ran into the hallway from the street, where they were im-mediately attacked by the dog. They had a hard struggle and four of the men were bitten before the animal was killed.

NEGRO SLASHED BY RAZOR. Dead in a Hallway.

The police of the West Thirty-seventh treet station found a negro terribly cut about the face, arms and body in the hallway of an apartment house at charge, that he had stolen a bleycle in No. 403 West Thirty-eighth street about one o'clock this morning.

He was in a very bad state and he was hurried off to Roosevelt Hospital in an ambulance. There was nothing in his possession by which he could be identified, and the people in the house did not know how he came there or how he was cut. The cuts seemed to have been made by a razor.
